‘Survival of the Simplest’, a new reality

...we live this truth with our technology expertise...

Radix is driven by the 'left brain meets right brain' thinkers and doers. The word 'RADIX' means a base – a foundation. For us that's our people – people who have found us and who drive us. Their project management and knowledge networking skills make us who we are today.

Simplicity is our Core Technology

We don't talk jargons. We believe that technology can be simplified with patience and perseverance. We have been doing it successfully for our clients – and we are talking of a decade now. We understand your business from your point of view.

RADIXWEB has expanded globally with an office in the US and its development and delivery centres in India. Our extensive experience is vouched for by our 400+ global clients coming from multiple industry verticals.
